Date, or provide the Services by the Services Completion Date then:

23. If the Customer is to collect the Products (as opposed to the Products being delivered to the Delivery Address), the Customer must do so from the address stated on the Sales Order Form within 1 hour of the Delivery/Collection Date, or immediately upon being notified by LAF that the Products are ready for collection.

24. LAF may deliver the Products in instalments.

If requested by LAF, the Customer must ensure the Products are clearly identifiable as the property of LAF.

29. The Products shall be kept at the Customer's business address (as specified in the Sales Order Form), and shall not be removed from that location without notifying LAF until the Price and any other payment or sum due to LAF has been paid in full by the Customer. Provision of the Products to a third party in any form shall not relieve the Customer of its obligation to pay the Price or to comply with any other obligation under these Terms and Conditions.

30. In the event that the Customer is in default of its obligations under these Terms and Conditions, any Order or any other contract that exists between the Customer and LAF, LAF will at its election be entitled to the immediate return of the Products and for this purpose may enter the Customer's premises to recover any Products. If LAF so elects, the Customer must at its cost take all necessary action (including obtaining the consent of any third party) to enable LAF to exercise its rights under this clause 30.

USE OF PRODUCTS

31. Except to the extent that LAF has made express representations in writing, the Customer shall be responsible for determining the suitability of the Products for the purpose for which they are intended, and acknowledges and agrees that LAF is not necessarily aware of that purpose and that the Customer has not relied on LAF's advice.

32. In accordance with the provisions of the Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth), the Customer agrees that the Products and Services are either:

(a) not of a kind ordinarily acquired for personal, domestic or household use or consumption; or

33. In accordance with the provisions of the Trade Practices Amendment (Australian Consumer Law) Act 2009 (Cth) (and its

In addition to the Customer's obligation to pay interest set out in clause 14 and without limiting any other right or remedy available to LAF, the Customer must pay to LAF any costs, damages, expenses or losses suffered or incurred by LAF as a result of the Customer's failure to pay to LAF on the due date all sums outstanding from the Customer to LAF (including, without limitation, any debt collection and legal costs).

38. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, LAF may by notice in writing to the Customer:

- (a) elect that all monies owing by the Customer to LAF under these Terms and Conditions, any Order or any other contract that exists between the Customer and LAF (including but not limited to any Credit) whatsoever become immediately due and payable in full by the Customer; and/or

In respect of any terminated Order, the Customer must pay to LAF any and all losses, damages, costs, interest, fees, charges (including handling charges) and expenses incurred or suffered by LAF and its suppliers as a result of the Customer's default of these Terms and Conditions and the subsequent cancellation of the Order. The Customer shall have no recourse whatsoever against LAF as a result of any termination of an Order under clause 38.

(b) any representations, warranties, conditions or agreement made by any agent or representative which are not expressly confirmed by LAF in writing, and the liability of LAF for any such matters is hereby excluded.

Unless such written claim is received by LAF within this period, the Customer shall be deemed to have accepted the condition of the Products, conformity of the Products and/or the completion of the Services (as the case may be) in accordance with the Order.
